

DELAY SENDING QUOTAS ORDERS

Quarantine Placed at Camp Grant, Rock Island, Ill., to Entrainment of Men.

Orders have been received by the Rock Island exemption board from Adjutant General F. S. Dickinson of Springfield, which state that no more men are to be entrained to Camp Grant until further orders are given as the camp is now under quarantine on account of the prevalence of Spanish influenza.

The board has entrained a few transfer men to Camp Grant from time to time and three were scheduled to leave for the camp today, but these are now being held pending further information from Springfield.

The board was to have sent 90 men to Camp Grant next Monday, but a cancellation of this order was received several days ago as well as for the quota of 10 men who were to be entrained for Camp Dix, N. J., on the same date. It is not deemed improbable by the board that these men may be entrained to some camp where the Spanish influenza is not prevalent.

The disease has spread rapidly and all precautions are being taken throughout the country and especially in the army cantonments, to check the epidemic.

Drastic steps are being taken with this point in view, and although the situation is not considered especially serious, the authorities are nevertheless putting forth the greatest efforts to stamp out the influenza within the shortest time possible.

ARREST BANKER ON INDICTMENT

William J. Houseman, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Danversport, was arrested in that city today on an indictment returned by the federal grand jury, charged with embezzlement. He is charged with making false entry and extracting money in violation of the United States banking law. The extent of his defalcation is placed at $745.

Red Cross Nurses Have Little Fear of Work Scarcity

Women Red Cross nurses on active duty in France have little fear of not having sufficient work to keep them busy. An interesting article is issued by the Red Cross officials giving extracts from a diary of one of the nurses. It is as follows:

"Monday. Worked at the canteen from 6 o'clock until midnight, then went to the hospital. Heard wounded had been coming in all evening."

"Tuesday. At the hospital at 8:30 in the morning. Doctor said there was nothing I could do since I was not a nurse. But I went in to the wards. What did that doctor mean by 'nothing to do'? The men were hungry—hadn't eaten for days, some of them. Met the Red Cross chief. He rushed at me, handed me 2,000 francs ($400) and said, 'Go buy food and rolling chairs—these aren't one here.' I bought 500 francs worth of eggs. Met some girls from the British ambulance corps, and they offered me 100 francs (quarts) of coffee, 100 of chocolate and hundreds of sandwiches of eggs, jelly and ham. Two men cut ham and bread for 24 hours at a stretch."

"Wednesday. Three men in front of hospital wounded. Helped wash them—took all my nerve. Blood is ghastly and I know what blood-sucking means. Edith stayed all night in operating room."

"Thursday. Frigidity tired. Soldiers marvellously patient. Don't understand how those girls stay night after night in operating room. German shells still whistling over, but haven't hit the hospital yet. Had a car accident. Wrote ten letters for poor devils who may never dictate another. Wonder why I haven't cried once."

"Friday. Wrote some more letters and helped in operating room. Don't know how I stand it. At night couldn't stand up, hardly. Slept in a blanket just a few yards from a gun."

"Saturday. Evacuating wounded, thank God. Feel hollow and haven't strength of a fly. Feel at last as if I'd done something. Want to get back to the same work when I get rested enough."

Secretary Daniels and girl munitions workers at Eddyst one plant.

Secretary Daniels is here seen in a happy mood, and in view of the event and of his charming surroundings, who can blame him? The picture was taken on the occasion of the navy secretary's recent visit to the plant of the Midvale Steel company at Eddystone, Pa., to celebrate the delivery to the government of the one-millionth rifle with in a year by the Midvale company. On the extreme right of the picture is General John Thompson, U. S. director of arsenals.

BULGAR DEEDS IN RETREAT WORSE THAN EVEN HUNS

Saloniki, Thursday, Oct. 3.—Burning villages marked the trail of the retreating Bulgarian army in Macedonia, according to telegrams received here from the front. Bodies of slain civilians were found in the smoking ruins at many places by the advancing allies. Allies state that this work of destruction surpassed even that which has been reported from districts in France and Belgium from which the Germans have been driven.

PLAN TO SECURE 1919 LABOR MEET

Delegates to Annual Gathering at Bloomington, Named Last Night, to Bid for Convention.

Every effort will be made by Charles J. Mac Gowan, president of the Tri-City Federation of Labor, J. G. Bauer of this city, and C. R. Johns of Moline, who were elected delegates to the 26th annual convention of the State Federation of Labor to be held in Bloomington, on Oct. 21, to secure the 1919 session for Rock Island.

The delegates were elected at the semi-monthly meeting of the federation at the Industrial Home last night. In 1917, Rock Island lost out by but 17 votes, Bloomington winning the 1918 convention.

John Blaney, an investigator representing the national labor board, gave an interesting address at the session held last night, centering his talk on the importance of purchasing Liberty bonds to the limit.

James Kinsley and Henry Grapp of Rock Island and C. R. Johns and Clyde Becker of Moline were appointed by the members of the association a local committee to serve in connection with the state-wide vocational education movement existing in Illinois, which is expected to result in the drawing of a bill to be presented to the legislature.

Sales of Liberty bonds among the local unions were reported on and although the majority of the branches gave freely, some are said to have made only slight response. These cases are to be investigated.

STATES NO MONEY IS WANTED OTHER THAN OWN SUPPLY

"This office does not want the money of the Burlington railroad nor that of the state's attorney investigating fund, nor that of the county to pay expenses of following the box car thieves and recovering the stolen goods," said Sheriff George H. Richmond today.

The sheriff made particular reference to the published statement of State's Attorney Thompson that the Burlington railroad probably would meet the unusual expense incurred in investigating this case and recovering the property taken from its box cars at Barstow. Sheriff Richmond told the newspaper reporters that his office had been at great expense in this matter without fees. The state's attorney, who had had much to say of the matter in which the sheriff's fees are earned and the disposition of them, was informed of the sheriff's statement, which indicated some of the places where the money goes out of the sheriff's office, with nothing coming in.

In reply the state's attorney expressed the opinion that the Burlington railroad would meet the extra expenses involved in this investigation, saying that if funds were not available there, his fund appropriated for investigation of crime is available for such cases.

The sheriff resents the tender of the state's attorney. With reference to the railroad repaying the expense, he took the position that it is against public policy, for the reason that it might create an impression that the sheriff's office works to regain stolen property only when the loser pays the expense. The reward offered for property recovered in this instance has not been accepted by the sheriff, he said today.

SPEAKS OF WAR TO LOAN HEADS

Lieutenant H. H. Young of the Marine Corps Scheduled to Talk at Noon Session.

Lieutenant H. H. Young of the Second battalion, Fifth Marines, will address the Liberty loan campaign workers at tomorrow's luncheon at the Rock Island club.

Lieutenant Young has seen active service with the Fifty-first company of the above mentioned battalion and is one of the American contingents sent back to this country to help boost the fourth Liberty loan. He was severely wounded in the right arm during the famous battle of Chateau Thierry on June 3 and will have a most interesting story to tell of his experiences.

Not a single worker should fail to hear the lieutenant in his vivid description of life at the front. The usual plate lunch will be served and this will be the only meeting of the campaign workers scheduled until next Wednesday. The committee is especially desirous that every team member be present.

Captain E. M. Sala, former Rock Island physician, who is now in the medical reserve corps of the army, will also be present. He has been stationed in Denning, N. M., and Washington, D. C. He is to stop in Rock Island enroute from Washington to Denver.

PEARL MILLER TO SERVE JAIL TERM

Mrs. Rudolph Wahlstrand, otherwise known as Pearl Miller, who since Sept. 25 has been held in the county jail, was taken to Monmouth today by Deputy United States Marshal John Coburn, where she will serve a four months' sentence in the Warren county jail for violating the federal regulations regarding vice in Rock Island.

A written confession of her guilt was tendered at a special session of the district federal court in Peoria recently, and the court sentenced her to four months. She was arrested at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, by a special federal officer on Sept. 24. Her first arrest occurred in Portland, Oregon, several months ago, but she gained a release on a ruse in which she made the police in that city believe she was not the person wanted.

Urges Cutting of Decayed and Dead Trees on Estates

Washington.—Owners of large estates should not defer the removal from their grounds of dead and unsightly trees, because they believe such improvements would not be urgent warwork, say officials of the forest service, United States department of agriculture. Such work can be combined with the production of fuel wood and no labor will be diverted from useful lines. This source of fuel supply will not damage the woods or detract from the beauty of landscapes, but will utilize deadwood and keep up improvements through the period of the war.
